Will Have Many Good Attractions
The builders of the Chautauqua this year believe that they have succeeded in out-doing all previous efforts. This claim is made not only with reference to the quality of the talent to be presented, but in the arrangement and artistic balance of the program.

As heretofore, there will be several musical organizations, one for each day. The headliner among these is Thaviu's International Band, which comes this time forty strong. Accompanying the band will be twelve grand opera singers, among whom we find the names of Signora Bartoloni of the Lombard Opera Company, and Blaccone of the Boston Opera Company. This great band, re-inforced and improved, will be by all odds the most expensive of all chautauqua attractions anywhere.

The Spanish Ladies Orchestra, appearing the first day in grand concert, is a particularly strong and pleasing attraction. The artists appear in Spanish costumes, of great beauty, and produce harmonies of tremendous musical effect. Herbert Spencer Johnson, the famous pianist is a member of this orchestra and his playing will be a revelation.

The first day is to be a particularly strong day. The lecturer will be Judge A. Z. Blair, the nervy jurist who disfranchised two thousand of his fellow citizens and constituents in Adams County, Ohio, for crooked work at the polls. He is a man of iron, who doesn't know the meaning of the word "fear," and is a whirlwind orator with a mighty delivery.

Rev. Wm. Vardeman the pastor of the Greenville Baptist church and Rev. W. S. Wilburn of Oklahoma are holding a revival meeting with the congregation. The ministers were in Marshall Wednesday.

Elaborate preparations are made for children. Nothing is incomplete. Every day is a big day. The wise ones will purchase season tickets take in the Spanish Orchestra the opening afternoon and stay with the program until Joy night.

Dr. Frank W. Gussaulus, the great Chicago preacher, president of the Armstrong Institute of Technology, and the Henry Ward Beecher of modern times, will deliver his great lecture on the "Crime of War." Congressman Victor Murdock, the typical Kansas orator who is at the head of the list of progressive Congressional lawmakers, and Ex-Governor Ashton Shallenberger, the live wire from Nebraska will each deliver their latest message to our people.

There will be a remarkably strong lecture on China by Frederick A. Poole. This lecture is illustrated by beautiful slides and motion pictures and will convey a very keen sense of Chinese conditions up to date. Shungopavi the Indian medicine man delivers a powerful and unique lecture on the Mogul Indians and is also a magician of the first class. Ralph Parlette editor of the Lyceum Magazine will deliver his humorous philosophy as only Parlette can. The Dunbar Quartet and Bell Ringers will present a program of mirth and melody of wonderful entertaining power.

Own a Home

Let your first investment be home.

Have your children a house to live in or a home to love in?

Don't be content to raise your children under another man's roof.

Is your family just a few people living together, or have you a home?

Many men haven't the money to build only because they haven't the courage to save.

It's tough thing to walk a tightrope and know that none of them is yours.

What will be your children's recreation of home—a house you own or a house you rented?

No man is too poor to build as long as he is spending money for something he could deny himself.

If your living in a house made of stone more valuable, if the house were yours you would reap the profit.

Think over all the investments which you have heard. How many have invested in a home have lost their money?

No doubt the lot on which you live will be worth more in a few years than it is now, but it will be worth a lot more to you.

You can have more fun in your spending all your money there than you can have more comfort in any building a home in youth.

You never will be able to get along without a house to live in, but you will be able to get along without a house as soon as you build one for yourself.

The man who spends for pleasure the money which he could save to build a home is as foolish as the man who picks the flower instead of waiting for the fruit.

Scripture

Isaiah 55th Chapter—1st to 8th verses.

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and ye labour for that which satisfieth not? Ye seek diligently unto me, and ye say that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

Behold, I have given him for a witness unto the people, a leader and commander to the people.

Behold, thou shalt call a nation that knoweth not, and nation that know not thee shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near:

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

Talks About Advertising

By Roy B. Simpson.
(Copyrighted 1913 by R. B. Simpson.)

This talk is directed to men and women who have "the commercial instinct"—who can make some thing better than any one else—an who are ambitious to have a business of their own.

There are scores of men and women in this city—many of them well-to-do—who ought to be their own boss. Lying dormant in their brains are ideas, which, if commercialized would make them wealthy.

What others have done you can do through ambition, determination and advertising.

"Mary Elizabeth," of Rochester is a working girl who made delicious chocolate creams. She sold few pounds and was so encouraged that she got the advertising manager of a local newspaper help prepare some advertising. Within a few months every lover of good candy in Rochester was eating Mary Elizabeth's chocolates.

This was five years ago. "Mary Elizabeth" is now a wealthy business woman employing several hundred people. Her chocolates are known from ocean to ocean.

Mennen was a barber, but he thought everybody ought to use his tummy powder. From a small start with advertising in his local newspapers an enormous business was created. Mennen left an estate worth over a million dollars.

A young man in Scranton secured the formula for a toilet cream of superior merit. He started with less than $100 and in fifteen months he built up a business requiring a working capital of $200,000.

Another young man had his mother teach him to make real home made bread. He began by making bread in his own kitchen and advertising in a small way in the local newspapers. Within two years he has become one of Philadelphia's foremost bakers.

Hundreds of similar stories of big business from a small start can be told. Nearly every successful enterprise had a humble beginning. Continuous advertising made the grow.

If you can make a loaf of bread better than other eatables, better children's aprons, rompers or other articles of wear or use, come out in the open and let everybody enjoy the benefit of your genius. Commercialize your talent.

It is a part of the business of the newspaper to make business for others. The advertising manager will assist you in drawing up a plan and printing your ads without charge or obligation.

Make a start NOW.—Get a good plan and stick to it—advertise continuously and consistently and you will soon be at the head of a business you will be proud to own.

Little Journeys

This is the time of year when nearly everyone is planning some kind of trip. Usually the longer the trip the pleasanter the anticipation of it is.

But there are certain kinds of journeys that are not classed as "pleasure trips" when the weather is hot. These journeys are the necessary shopping excursions.

Two women were overheard talking in the shopping district early on morning of this past week. One of them said, "I wish I could have stayed at home today. I have a list of ten things I must buy, and I know it is going to take me until closing time to get them all."

"I have a list of fourteen articles," the other replied, "but I expect to be home by noon."

"How can you ever manage it?" said the first.

"Easily enough. I looked over the newspapers and by going through the advertisements carefully I was able to plan a regular route for my trip. I know just what shops I am going to and what I shall buy at each one."

This wise woman by her intelligent forethought made her shopping trip a pleasant "little journey." No one can afford not to follow her example in reading thoroughly the advertisements in the good newspapers when so much time and nerve-fag can be saved by doing so.

Rev. Clarence Dodge returned Friday from Eldorado Springs, Mo., where he spent two weeks in recreation.

MEDICINE MAN IS HEAP BIG INDIAN

Shungopavi of the Mogul Tribe to Come to Chautauqua.

APPEARS IN FULL REGALIA.

One of the Cleverest of Magicians in Both Indian and White Man's Tricks. Lecture on Indian Life Full of Thrilling Interest—A Graduate of Government Indian School.

Shungopavi, a full blood Mogul Indian, will appear on our Chautauqua with a program of fine interest to old and young. The people here will be given a chance to see and hear a real Indian orator and will enjoy to the full his intensely interesting tales of snake dances, incantations and other Indian freaks.

Shungopavi is a product of one of our Indian schools. He uses choice language and is a perfect gentleman. His folklore recitals are gems of their kind and intensely interesting.

He is also a master of magic, both Indian and that of the white man. He says the Indian has no tricks, but this gets to be a joke before he has gone far with his program.

Painted and feathered, he comes on the platform in the full regalia of the Indian medicine man and furnishes a unique and striking program of real merit. He ought to have a great audience. There will be no more interesting feature at Chautauqua. Shungopavi is a wonderful Indian and is a striking object lesson on the work of the government Indian schools.

BUSINESS ORATOR,
EDWARD F. TREFZ

To Deliver Address on Team Work at Chautauqua.

GIVES PRACTICAL TALKS.

One of America's Leading Advertising Experts—A Recognized Authority on Commercial Development—A Careful Student of the Times and a Booster for Business People.

The keen appreciation shown last season of the work done in the interests of the community by Hon. Nelson S. Darling prompted a desire to continue and extend that feature for 1913. We at once opened negotiations with Edward F. Trefz of Chicago and finally secured his consent to take the Chautauqua platform this season in behalf of business.

Edward F. Trefz is peculiarly fitted for the task. He is not only a man of strong natural endowments, but has had extraordinary opportunities as well. He is now advertising counsel of the United States Painted Display Advertising Association and is recognized by commercial organizations throughout the country as one of the foremost exponents of the business idea. His services are eagerly sought on all hands for addresses and counsel.

Trefz is an advanced thinker. He does not represent business as a grind, but transforms it into an enthusiastic pursuit. Inspiration, good humor, common sense and hard facts permeate his address. He has a noble countenance, and there is fellowship in his smile.

Edward F. Trefz has a speech worth while. Every man and boy in the country ought to hear him for the boost it will give them. Better business methods and closer co-operation are bound to result. Trefz is the specialist who knows the remedy for bad blood in business, and the dose is a pleasant one to take.

The social and moral interests have been well served already. It is a fine thing to bring to Chautauqua a man who has a real message to men who are developing the country districts and building towns. Trefz will be heard with enthusiasm.

Lloyd Talked of For Governor

While it is a little early as yet to say with any degree of certainty who will be the Democratic candidate for governor of Missouri almost four years hence, yet it is possible that the present congress will furnish three candidates.

Representative Lloyd of the First district has already enjoyed a long service in the house and would not be averse to finishing off at Jefferson City. He was urged by many friends to run last year, but decided not to do so. Representative Norland, of Kansas City, a member of the appropriations committee, is still said to have his eye on the governorship, and Representative Joe Russell, of Charleston, who gave much legislation during last session to pension legislation, is said to be preparing to take office in the new capitol. Then there is Dorsey Shackelford, he of good roads fame. It will be well to keep an eye on him.—St. Joseph Observer.

The fair grounds swimming pool in St. Louis, constructed at a cost of about $200,000 was opened to the public, last week, with addresses by city officials, the infusing of flag and aquatic sports. The pool holds 3,800,000 gallons and takes 58 hours to fill with a six inch pipe.
